What is Gandhian philosophy?

Gandhian Philosophy is the religious and social ideas adopted and developed by Mahatma Gandhi.

Roots of Gandhian Philosophy

Gandhi was born in India in 1869. From 1893 to 1914 he lived in South Africa. Later, he emerged as the face of Indian freedom movement.

The base of Gandhian philosophy is the spiritual or religious component. He was a firm believer in God.

He was also a believer in humanity.

He believed that human nature is good. He considered all people are capable of moral development.

Gandhiji developed these ideologies from various inspirational sources such as Bhagavad Geeta, Jainism, Buddhism, Bible, Gopal Krishna Gokhale, Tolstoy, and John Ruskin among others.

Leo Tolstoy's book 'The Kingdom of God is within you' had a deep influence on Mahatma Gandhi. The same was the case with John Ruskin's 'Unto This Last'.

Gandhiji paraphrased Ruskin's book 'Unto This Last' as 'Sarvodaya', which meant the upliftment of all.

The relevance of Gandhian Philosophy in Modern Times

Economics

Make in India is a manifestation of Gandhi's ideals of self-sufficiency.

Gandhi's philosophy of inclusive growth is fundamental to the building of a resurgent rural India.

He believed in "production by the masses" rather than mass production, a distinctive feature of the industrial revolution.

Environment

Gandhi warned the country of unrestricted industrialism and exploitation of nature for human greed.

The results of not adhering to Gandhian environmentalism are serious environmental damage and non-sustainable development.

Administration

These Gandhian Philosophy is provided to students by library of HEI and made available to the all staff and students.

His Quote

If you give education to those strata of Indian Society which has a vested interest in maintaining the Caste System for the advantages it gives them, then the Caste System will be strengthened. On the other hand, if you give education to the lowest strata of Indian Society which is interested in blowing up the Caste System, the Caste System will be blown up.

All India Depressed Classes Conference - 1942

My final words of advice to you are educate, agitate and organize; have faith in yourself. With justice on our side I do not see how we can loose our battle. The battle to me is a matter of joy. The battle is in the fullest sense spiritual. There is nothing material or social in it. For ours is a battle not for wealth or for power. It is battle for freedom. It is the battle of reclamation of human personality.
